

Brexit: where are we... with 100 days of transition to go?

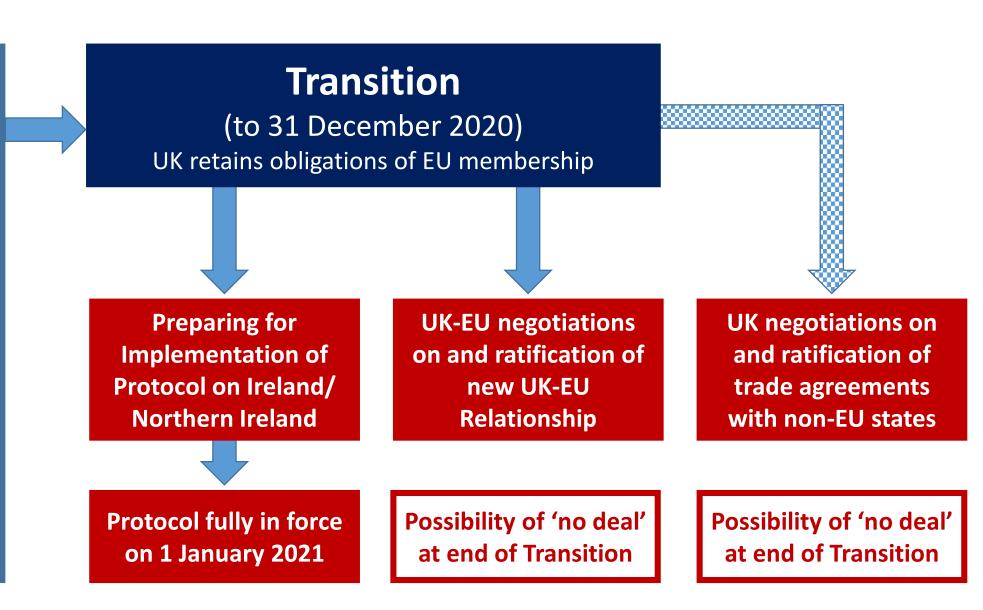

Prof David Phinnemore (@DPhinnemore)

Brexit... now the UK has left the EU

Withdrawal Agreement in force

31.01.2020

UK ceased to be a member state of the European Union

Implementing the Protocol

Engagement

- Joint Committee two meetings and one extraordinary meeting; next meeting on 28 September
- Specialized Committee two meetings
- Joint Consultative Working Group still to be established

Decisions Pending

- Criteria for 'at risk' goods and exemptions from tariffs
- Levels of permissible agricultural support
- Fish products exempt from tariffs
- Monitoring arrangements

UK implementation

- The UK's Approach to the Northern Ireland Protocol (20 May) assurances on commitments, but very little detail around implementation
- Moving goods under the Northern Ireland Protocol (7 August) partially addresses operational detail for GB-NI movements; Trader Support Service
- UK Internal Market Bill (9 September) unfettered access... and 'safety net' provisions allowing UK minister to disapply/modify NI-GB exit procedures and to interpret Article 10 (state aids) and disapply or modify its effect
- Finance bill (expected October/November) UK minister to determine criteria for GB-NI goods 'at risk' of onward movement into the EU internal market and so subject to applicable tariffs

Reaction

- Breach of obligations in jointly agreed Protocol/WA
- Trust in UK to implement treaty obligations?
- Parliamentary lock on 'safety net' powers
- EU insists on removal of offending UKIM bill clauses
- Legal remedies that EU 'will not be shy in using'

UK-EU Negotiations on Future Partnership

8th Round of Negotiations

(8-10 September)

- EU: 'the UK has not engaged in a reciprocal way on fundamental EU principles and interests. Significant differences remain in areas of essential interest for the EU'
- UK: 'These were useful exchanges. However, a number of challenging areas remain and the divergences on some are still significant'

Outstanding Issues

State Aid

Level Playing Field

Fisheries

Governance

Key Dates - 2020

24.09 Special European Council (to 25.09)

28.09 Ninth round of negotiations (to 02.10)

Power Surge or Power Grab? The Internal Market Bill and Devolution

Dr Viviane Gravey (@VGravey)

The Bill and its principles

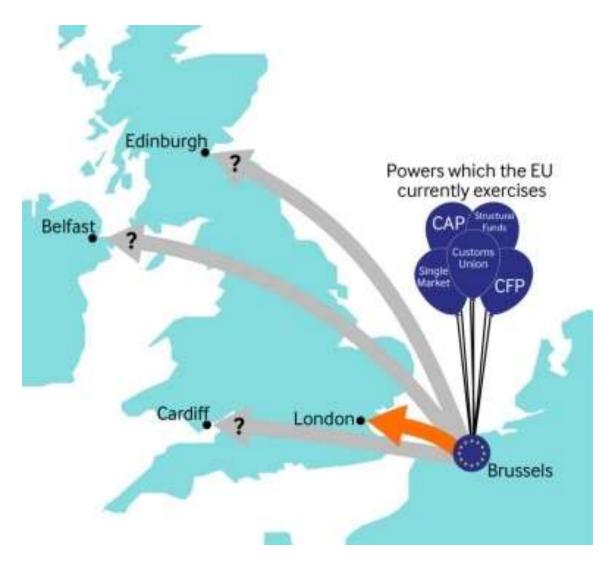

Mutual recognition:

- S2: If a product is authorized for use/sale in one part (whether produced or imported), then it can be sold anywhere else free from any 'relevant requirements'.
- S2 and S3: Relevant requirements are very broadly interpreted, e.g. environmental, production, labelling, or food characteristics criteria and generally no exemptions/justifications found here.
- Applies to new requirements.
- Schedule 1 provides for exclusions in very limited circumstances: where threat to human, animal or plant health, e.g. where pest or disease and unsafe.

Non-discrimination:

• S5-8. Similar approach, with some variations, e.g. regarding indirect discrimination (s8(6)).

Power Surge?

"there is no power grab; this is a power surge. We are ensuring that all devolved policy areas stay devolved, and additional powers are returning to the devolved Administrations."

Alok Sharma, 16.07.2020

Power Grab?

Less subsidiarity

- Fewer exceptions to Internal Market Principles
- Centralisation of financial assistance power

Skewed institutional power balance

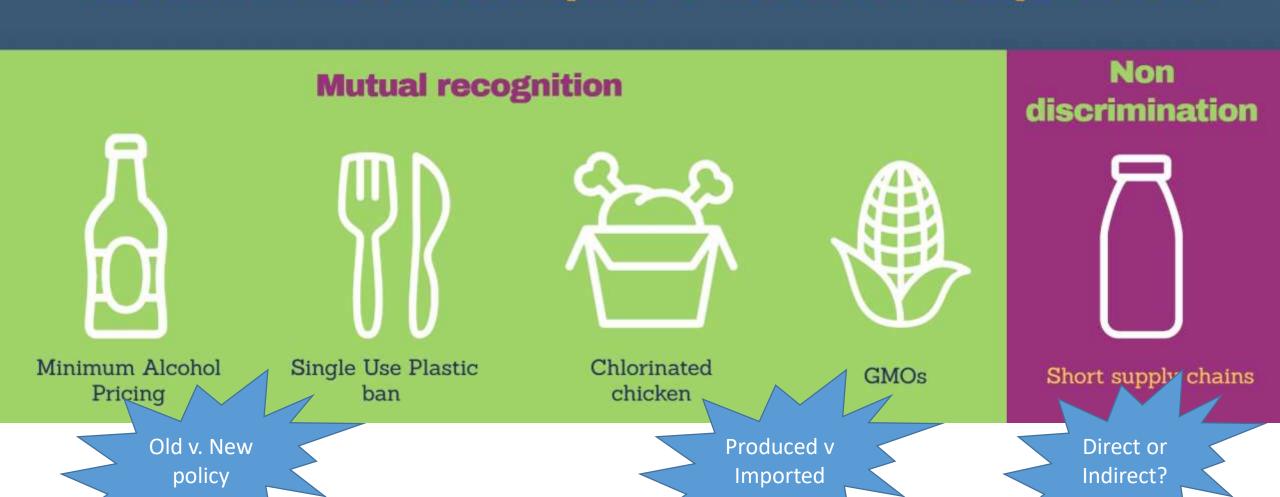

Who sets the norm, who diverges?

Skewed market power balance

- Who can afford to diverge?
- Whose rules matter?

Practical examples

Internal Market Principles & devolved competences

Conclusions

Devolved competences at risk

- Hollowed out powers ?
- Centralisation of funding?
- Incentives for harmonisation?
- Inclusive trade policy even more urgent

What about NI?

- Insulated from some of these changes
- Affected by others
- Competitive disadvantage, or badge of quality?

The NI/IRL Protocol: still signs of life?

PART 5

NORTHERN IRELAND PROTOCOL

Northern Ireland's place in the UK internal market and customs territory

40 Northern Ireland's place in the UK internal market and customs territory

Unfettered access

41 Unfettered access to UK internal market for Northern Ireland goods

Key points:

- Not about GB to NI
- To legislate for unfettered access
- Powers for the Secretary of State: affirmative procedure to be used
- Neill amendment: 'Parliamentary lock'

42 Power to disapply or modify export declarations and other exit procedures

Notifications under Article 10 of the Northern Ireland Protocol

- 43 Regulations about Article 10 of the Northern Ireland Protocol
- 44 Notification of State aid for the purposes of the Northern Ireland Protocol

Certain provisions to have effect notwithstanding inconsistency or incompatibility with international or other domestic law

Further provision related to sections 42 and 43 etc

The UK Internal Market Bill:

'specific and limited ways' of law breaking

Certain provisions to have effect notwithstanding inconsistency or incompatibility with international or other domestic law

25 Further provision related to sections 42 and 43 etc The following have effect notwithstanding any relevant international or domestic law with which they may be incompatible or inconsistent section 42: any regulations made under section 42(1); 30 section 43; any regulations made under section 43(1); this section; any other provision of this Act so far as relating to the provisions in paragraphs (a) to (e). 35 Accordingly (among other things) -(a) regulations under section 42(1) or 43(1) are not to be regarded as unlawful on the grounds of any incompatibility or inconsistency with relevant international or domestic law; all rights, powers, liabilities, obligations, restrictions, remedies and procedures which are, in accordance with section 7A of the European 40 Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018, to be recognised and available in domestic law, and enforced, allowed and followed accordingly, cease to be recognised and available in domestic law, or enforced, allowed and followed, so far and for as long as they are incompatible or

Is it a safety net?

Article 16 Safeguards

If the application of this Protocol leads to serious economic, societal or environmental difficulties that are liable to persist, or to diversion of trade, the Union or the United Kingdom may unilaterally take appropriate safeguard measures. Such safeguard measures shall be restricted with regard to their scope and duration to what is strictly necessary in order to remedy the situation. Priority shall be given to such measures as will least disturb the functioning of this Protocol.

UK Internal Market Bill – EU Reaction

Extraordinary UK-EU Joint Committee (10 September)

Commission Statement

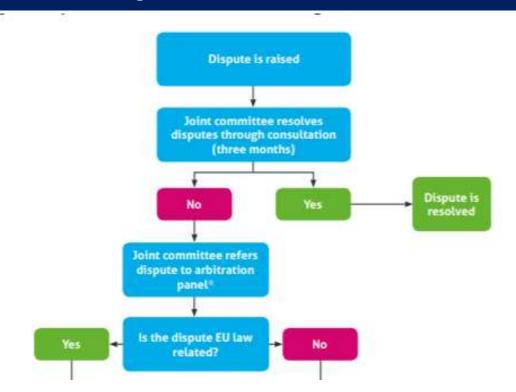

"the timely and full implementation of the Withdrawal Agreement is a legal obligation. The [EU] the letter and spirit... to be fully respected. Violating the terms... would break international law, undermine trust and put at risk the ongoing future relationship negotiations."

"Šefčovič called on the UK government to withdraw these measures from the draft Bill in the shortest time possible and in any case by the end of the month. He stated that by putting forward this Bill, the UK has seriously damaged trust between the EU and the UK. It is now up to the UK government to re-establish that trust."

"He reminded the UK government that the Withdrawal Agreement contains a number of mechanisms and legal remedies to address violations of the legal obligations contained in the text – which the European Union will not be shy in using."

If, after three months of receiving the formal request to put together an arbitration panel, the UK and EU still have not agreed the five members they should appoint to It, they can ask the PCA to put together a panel.

there No UK-EU Deal

Without a UK-EU Free Trade Agreement Northern Ireland would face huge disruption to trade

UKINA CHANGING EUROPE

The difference between a Deal and No Deal with the NI/IRL protocol in force.

Deal

Cheaper for producers and consumers where UK tariff lower than EU common external tariff.

Proof needed that the good is remaining in NI(UK) and not moved into the EU (may pay higher duty first, then rebated).

No Deal

Where UK tariff lower than EU common external tariff, additional controls needed to ensure good will remain in NI (may pay higher duty at first, then rebated).

Import controls likely to be stricter in event of a No Deal because more urgent drive for other FTAs.

If no agreement on rules of origin, NI exports likely to suffer more barriers.

rest of the world

Between NI and the

Deal

UK seeking no change for direct routes, but needs EU agreement. declarations.

Transit procedures likely to apply on indirect routes into GB from NI. e.g. via Dublin.

No Deal

Greater need to distinguish NI goods before boarding on direct routes, so increased likelihood of administration such as EU exit summary Possible EU exit summary declarations and potential new UK data input requirements.

> Increased hurdles for NI goods accessing GB via Dublin beyond transit procedures, e.g. hauliers' ECMT licenses. More controls on Rol-GB movement, therefore, e.g., delays in Holyhead/Dublin.

NI to GB routes

No Deal

More goods 'at risk' of movement into the EU via NI, so increased need for controls (UK tariff is lower than EU's for almost 5,000 products, which increases risk of NI being used as backdoor to the EU).

Need to ensure GB-produced goods entering EU via NI pay the correct (EU) tariff.

Need to ensure intermediate goods from GB used by NI producers exporting to EU pay correct (EU) tariff.

Physical inspection required for all consignments of live animals, 30% of minced meat, poultry meat, dairy products and eggs, 15% of other meat products.

Between NI and the EU

No Deal

No direct change to movement of goods.

Negative impact on NI firms and consumers' ability to buy and sell services in the EU.

Deal

No change for movement of goods, except where goods in transit via GB.

Other aspects of a deal, covering services (e.g. extent of mutual recognition), level-playing-field (e.g. environmental standards), and data sharing will mimimise disruption for NI business and citizens.

Negative impact on data sharing.

Difficulty for north-south cooperation and trade in absence of level-playing-field conditions.

Deal

Zero tariffs and quotas, so checks and controls used primarily for standards (mainly affecting agri-food and pharma), except for 3rd country goods.

An ambitious agreement on rules of origin would reduce need for controls.

New administrative procedures (e.g. import declarations, safety and security declarations, and export health certificates) needed prior to crossing the Irish Sea.

Transit procedures will apply to indirect routes via Rol, e.g. Dublin.
